"Wake Up Your Taste Buds

with Mongolian Seafood"

★★★★EXCELLENT!

By Gail Gerson

When you enter this unassuming Chinese restaurant, you do not expect the unusual. The colorful pictures in the window indicate reasonably priced entrees, but a glance at the menu suggests a master chef at work. The Chinese chef must understand a myriad of cooking techniques in addition to ingredient preparation—the secret of preparing Chinese dishes.

Our investigation discovered innovative dishes and creative combinations that can not be found anywhere else. Have you ever tasted CRISPY SHRIMP WITH WALNUTS or Triple Deluxe with beef, shrimp, scallops, broccoli, bamboo shoots, mushrooms and water chestnuts? Another sensational dish is KOBO DELICIOUS! This rather spicy oriental fantasy contained tender sliced beef and chicken sautéed with baby corn, snow peas, water chestnuts and of course KOBO hot chili sauce. SOMETHING SPECIAL IN SOHO? IS THE MONGOLIAN SEA FOOD. When this unusual combination of mussels, shrimp, scallops, squid and straw mushrooms in a black bean sauce and straw mushrooms in a black bean sauce arrive, all stars. Attack is imminent, the taste unparalleled! Our heartiest diner recommends the ingenious CONFUCIOUS SEA FOOD. The ingredients, fresh mussels with black bean sauce, served together with fresh baby shrimp, straw mushrooms and the most incredibly fresh soft noodles, was sinful. Do not overlook the appetizers, especially the fried dumplings, eight for $2.95. Prices are the next best item besides the food at the Hunan Inn. The above dishes range from $4.95 to $6.50, all plentiful and representing a culinary range from all of China. Lunch is $2.75. This is a full luncheon. The Hunan Inn also boasts a complete vegetarian menu, all innovative and delicious. Free delivery in Manhattan is another plus. Take a tip from the Wine and Dine restaurant reviewers and try this delightful restaurant. They sell the steak not the size in the East Village!

SEASONS SELECTIONS

FRAGRANT SOFT SHELL CRAB

12.25

Fresh soft shell crabs seared over high flame at the charcoal peak of their flavor is skillfully infused to gether w. garden picked asau pea pods. Superbly enhanced by spicy ginger garlic wine sauce, this is a true seasonal delicacy.

★ HUNAN K'S CRISPY BEEF (or CHICKEN)

9.50

Chunks of tender steak seared over a high flame & subtly enhanced w. the flavors of crushed togarine root & hot pepper sauce. A highly fragrant dish.

GANG JEN SHRIMP

9.75

Junbo crispy shrimp skillfully infused over a high flame to bring out the natural flavor enhanced with delicious oyster sauce & topped w. fresh breaded scallions. Truly an extraordinary dish.

CHICKEN OF THE FOUR SEASONS

8.50

Sliced chicken breasts seared to preserve its natural juices & delicately infused to tenderest perfection w. succulent asau mushrooms, garden fresh asau pea pods, baby corn & waterchestnuts in sophisticated white sauce.

PLUM DUCK

An exquisite feast, w. painstaking preparation similar to Peking duck. After an "long" (repeated searing) the duck, it is hung overnight to drain excess fat, then roasted expertly to create a heavenly crispy skin, complemented by an exceptionally delicate plum sauce.

★ GANG BIEN STRING BEANS

6.95

Fresh string beans infused evenly over a high flame to preserve their generous and seared in their natural juice. Blended harmoniously w. minced pork & complemented by tangy spicy sauce w/ touches of garlic and ginger.

★ GENERAL CHING'S CHICKEN

8.95

General Ching, the renowned general of the Ching Dynasty, invented the famous Hunan-style chicken chunks w/ tangy hot sauce.

DOUBLE DELIGHT SHRIMP

16.25

The tenderness of succulent fresh shrimp inside a crunchy crispy jacket, the gentle touch of sauce w/ sprinkles of green scallions to enhance the natural flavors on one side & junbo crispy shrimp skillfully seared over a high flame to bring out the natural flavor enhanced with fresh breaded scallions on another side.

FRAGRANT LOBSTER STEAK KEW

12.95

Choice lobster meat and tender prime beef, marinated in rice wine, carefully blended with asau pea pods, water chestnuts and Chinese mushrooms. Then seared in our chef's most sophisticated tangy, garlic, and ginger sauce.

GUY SHANG BEEF

Tender slices of beef infused over high heat and infused sky-high to blend with "five flavor" spices. In an entirely unique process, the broccoli are simmered to seal in flavor. A unique combination of crispy texture & sophisticated action make this a gourmet favorite.

SQUAB IN JADE NEST

Mixed snails quickly seared to seal in the flavor, then infused w. fresh watercress, bamboo shoots, Chinese mushrooms & green peas in oyster sauce, served on a nest bed of minute snails which are to be fired & wrapped like a crepe. A traditional finger food.

Mr. M.T.Yu, our master chef, was the chief cook to Madame Chang Kai-Shek in Taiwan for over ten years. He insist on only the freshest produce available and frequently changes the daily special to ensure top quality. Mr. Yu personally oversees all the daily deliveries of meats, fish, fowl and vegetables and never uses any canned, preprocessed or frozen foods. Most importantly, he does not allow the commonly use monosodium glutamate (M.S.G.) to enter his kitchen due to the freshness of his preparation which makes the spice additive totally unnecessary.

RED STARS FOR HUNAN PARK

NEW YORK POST

THURSDAY, APRIL 30, 1981
Reprinted from Last Night with Martin Burden
By MARTIN BURDEN

THE Hunan Park Restaurant at 235 Columbus Ave., near 71st Street, is a small place, seating only 70. There is no attempt to overwhelm the visitor with decor; it could be a dining spot of almost any ethnic bent. What it does have, is a first-rate chef, and that's the payoff.

Even the familiar dishes have a fresh taste. The cold noodles are dressed with sesame, peanut butter paste, ginger, shards of cucumber and Chinese pickle — refreshing and flavorful. The attractively presented chicken in three styles ($8.95) offers sliced white meat with snowpeas in mild white sauce, crisped chicken in sweet sauce, and mushroom-colored chicken chunks with a zesty sauce.

Despite its name, the restaurant doesn't specialize in Hunanese dishes, says general manager, Paul. Rather, it's a Mandarin cuisine, much of it flavored by ginger, garlic and other spices rather than tongue-scorching peppers. In fact, the menu notes that the amount of spice "can be altered according to your taste." Also the kitchen caters to diners by omitting sugar or salt, on request.

As is usual in such places, those dishes spiked with hot condiments are printed in red on the menu and marked with a red star, to caution is unwary.

The neatly arranged à la carte menu has sections listing soups, appetizers, poultry, vegetables, etc., plus a column of house specialties.

Among the latter (mostly at $5.95-$7.95) are the chicken in three styles; Hunan pork (sliced fresh pork with broccoli, baby corn and bamboo shoots in black bean sauce); beef with four flavors (shredded beef with garlic, green scallions, ginger and watercress in spicy sauce); lemon chicken; flower steak (beef chunks in a tangy sauce, with sautéed broccoli); yung-tse shrimp ball (panko shrimp with red pepper, bamboo shoots and black mushrooms), etc.

For some reason, few diners offer vegetable dishes in Chinese restaurants, but they're often worth sampling. At Hunan Park the eggplant with garlic sauce is very good, as are the dry-sautéed string beans. Bean curd is served with brown sauce in sautéed Szechuan style. The vegetables are $4.25-$4.50.

Special lunches — soups and entrees are $3.95.

Hunan Park is open every day from noon till midnight.

DINING

Hunan on Broadway

By HOWARD N. POTTING

There was when the tall dominoes of Chinese restaurants on Broadway in the '60s were thought of as such novelties in the gastronomic world that folk promised to step from all corners of the city. Then, around four years ago, these self-same places began to establish credence, making the steps upon which they sat more sure. Some other thing, attention was not passing.

Nowadays New York is plucked with restaurants that call themselves Hunan. The word Hunan is a misnomer, for it is not a province in China, but a province in China. And the Broadway restaurants are, naturally, managing to fill all their tables on weekends, which is a good sign to those who question what it was like to scallion in the cold, for these places are still capable of standing out in a crowded neighborhood in which the one called Hunan Royal is a particular favorite.

"Try the splendid scallion pancakes."

While far from a cloister, the restaurant is less grand than many of its neighbors. One wall is covered by mirrors, another by an ornate, dark lacquer, a collector's worth of tapestries. All about are hanging plants, and the view from the front, past the cashier's stand, are a few potted rubber plants, but the most interesting bit of decor is the north wall of pink tiles (see photo).

To start, you might want up with some of the house's splendid scallion pancakes. The secret of scallion pancakes is using only the green part of the green onion and subjecting it to a preliminary steaming so that it becomes light, flaccid and sweet. Here, they know the secret. The pancakes are fried rapidly in hot oil, which makes them very crisp and delicious. The Shredded Pork and Sichuan Pickled Cabbage Soup, meanwhile, might be regarded as particularly interesting. The Cabbage Soup. It also ought to appear in on the menu and be preceded by an article, for it is scallion, not. This is a good idea, for it is a healthy meal with tender crisp pork, crunchy slices of scallion and white turnip, slices of pungent mushrooms, and (sorry) starch. It has said that all parties would be better served by a more accurate label.

HUNAN ROYAL
2519 Broadway (at 94th St.)
222-5500

Then, do much by the standards here—very good Miso Pork and Peking Duck. But the things to watch for are these specials. When they are able to obtain fresh quality they make it available to you in the form of Beef and Chicken in Tea Sauce, a licorice in which whole pieces of the plant are removed about thick slices of tender beef and served to you as a thick, pepper, spicy. The flavor of tea is obscured by the licorice, of the duck, but the sauce is a natural, slightly metallic taste and serves an added boost from whole slices of garlic.

Hunan Royal's Crab in Black Bean Sauce is an interesting departure from Mini River interpretation of this dish. There is no sauce to speak of, just lots of crab, buttered and fried, enhanced by an abundance of salty black beans and scallions. Be advised that the crab is still in the shell, which means that the dish is quite some and you kind of messy, but the morsel of sweet rice will prove worth the wait once you get into it, the dish is hard to stop eating.

Service here, as at most places in the neighborhood, is perfunctory, especially if you are dining late when the staff is pulled around the big table in the back to check down. Ah, well, that's all part of the charm of these institutions, isn't it? A plain penny of plain wine and a couple of more to start come with the license.

There comes to me, including tax and tip, but not alcohol, will run around $22. Hunan Royal is open Monday through Friday for lunch, and daily for dinner. Reservations: on days, American Express, Carte Blanche, Diners Club, Master Card and Visa are accepted.

— PHYLLIS HANES —

New York City is overwhelming when it comes to eating out. With nearly 16,000 places to choose from, this is the Best.

Chef M.T. Yu was formerly at the Grand Hotel in Taipei, and also cooked for Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek when she lived on Long Island. His Hunan and Szechuan dishes are excellent.

Seasons Selections

SQUAB WITH JADE NEST 7.50

Minced squab quickly seared to seal in their flavor, then sautéed with fresh water chestnuts and Chinese mushrooms in oyster sauce. Served on a cool bed of lettuce leaves which are to be filled and wrapped like a crepe. A traditional finger food.

CHICKEN OF THE FOUR SEASONS 7.25

Sliced chicken breasts seared to preserve its natural juices and delicately sautéed to tenderest perfection with succulent straw mushrooms, garden fresh snow peas, pods, baby corns and water chestnuts in a sophisticated sauce.

GANG JEN SHRIMP 8.25

Jumbo crispy shrimp skillfully sautéed over a high flame to bring out the natural flavor enhanced by delicious oyster sauce and topped with fresh shredded scallions. Truly an extraordinary dish.

*GAN BIEN STRING BEANS 5.75

Fresh string beans tossed rapidly over a high flame to preserve their greenness and seared in their natural juices, blended harmoniously w. minced pork and complemented by a luscious spicy sauce with touches of garlic and ginger.

HUNAN TWO DELICACIES 8.95

Fresh scallops and shrimps dipped in lotus flour and stir-fried w. red spicy sauce, and harmonizing with broccoli.

PLUM DUCK 7.95

An exquisite feast with preliminary preparation similar to Peking duck, after use "long" (repeated scolding) the duck, it is hung overnight to drain excess fat, then roasted expertly to create a heavenly crispy skin, complemented by an exceptionally delicate plum sauce.

*GENERAL CHING'S CHICKEN 7.25

General Ching, the renowned general of the Ching Dynasty, trained the famous Hunan Army. Chicken chunks w. long-term hot sauce.

SESAME CHICKEN 7.25

Chunks of chicken sophisticatedly prepared to create a crispy yet tender texture, then flip sautéed w. a perfect blend of a chili-ginger garlic wine sauce, garnished w. fragrant sesame seeds and blanched fresh watercress to make this a superb dish.

GUY SHANG BEEF 7.75

Tender slices of beef sautéed over high heat for an extra crispy coating and tossed sky-high to blend with "the flavor" spices. In an entirely separate process, the broccoli are simmered to seal in flavor. A unique combination of crisp texture and sophisticated spices make this a gourmet favorite.

DOUBLE DELIGHT SHRIMP 14.95

The tenderness of luscious fresh shrimp inside a crackling crispy jacket, the gentlest touch sauce w. sprinkles of green scallions to enhance the natural flavors on one side and jumbo crispy shrimp skillfully sautéed over a high flame to bring out the natural flavor enhanced w. fresh shy-ed scallions on another side. Truly an extraordinary dish.

OUR HUNAN CUISINE

Hunan cuisine is a main branch of the conventional Chinese foods. They are Mandarin, Hunan, Shanghai and Cantonese. Hunan and Szechuan are in the same group. People in these two central provinces are generous, friendly, warm and loving. The manifold flavor is the chief characteristic of Hunan food, many dishes are simultaneously sour, sweet, hot, salty and aromatic. One is often surprised by the first taste. But after a while one begins to see that there is a different logic that makes Hunan cuisine so unique and colorful in character, that it stands out to be one of the world's best cuisine. Our chef owner, Mr. C. C. Chen, is specialized in Hunanese cooking style. His suggestions are exclusive and excellent. To serve you warmly with tasty foods and to let you feel the enjoyment of dining in our restaurant is our goal and pleasure.
